This constitution was adopted on 5/22/2020.

Article I: Organization Name

Section 1: The name of the organization established within this constitution shall be the University of Denver Dungeons and Dragons, hereafter referred to as DU Dungeons and Dragons or DUDAD.

Section 2, Overview of Mission: The Mission Statement of DU Dungeons and Dragons (DUDAD) is to provide a fun, creative, and safe environment for players of all skill levels to find friendship and community through tabletop gaming and collective storytelling experiences. DUDAD will seek to encourage within its membership the confidence to create and share ideas, pushing us all to imagine what could be rather than simply accepting what is. DUDAD will strive to teach that the stories we tell are nothing without the spark of life we, as a unique individual, can provide them.

Article II: Purpose:

Section 1, Learning Objectives: At DUDAD, players will engage in quarterly storytelling experiences. Through these they will practice collaborative problem solving, conflict management, improvisation techniques, and creative expression through worldbuilding. Over the course of each academic quarter, members will work towards these goals with a group of four to ten peers. They will continuously develop these skills and connection with their peers over the course of their membership in DUDAD.

Section 2, Campus and Community Action Steps:

1. Weekly club meetings provide opportunity for personal growth through DUDAD learning objectives as outlined in Section 1.
2. Bi-weekly One-Shot Days allow for members of the community who otherwise are not free during normal DUDAD meetings to engage with our organization, working towards our goals and collaborating with our members.
3. Our Player's Guild program provides a space for members of DUDAD to advocate for their accomplishments, projects, events, and other organizations. We believe this helps foster community and celebrate our members' achievements.
4. We provide our members with the opportunity to host Dungeon/Game Master (DM/GM) Workshops, enabling them to lead seminars discussing aspects of GM-ing and sharing game design principles with their peers.
5. DUDAD engages with other student organizations to provide awareness and assistance for their events. Most notable of our collaborations is our annual partnership with DUCS'S DU Arcade for International Tabletop Day.

Article III: Membership and Eligibility

Section 1:

- 1) Members and officers must be enrolled undergraduate students at the University of Denver.
- 2) Faculty, alumni, graduate students, or other non-students are encouraged to attend but may not vote, hold office, or be counted in the organization's official membership.

Section 2: Membership and eligibility shall be free from discrimination, including but not limited to: race, religion, gender, age, sexual orientation, physical disability, or ethnicity.

Section 3: Eligibility Requirements of Members and Expectations of Members

- a. Members of the public are allowed to join provided that they show interest, willingness to participate, uphold the organization's charter, and are invited and sponsored by at least one active member of the club and ratified by the Executive Board.
- b. Members must be participating in one adventure per academic year in any capacity. Participation includes adventuring, being a DM or GM, or any other capacity approved by the officers. Participation demands that the member be present for at least six of the nine quarterly sessions.
- c. Members cannot be in poor academic or disciplinary standing with the University of Denver.
- d. Membership will be subject to questioning and possible revocation of membership at the discretion of the Executive board if a member fails to communicate with the board, their GM, or any other member of the club regarding absence in excess of the first three meetings.
- e. Club members are allowed to DM or GM their own campaigns.
- f. Club members may run for officer positions during elections, provided that they are undergraduate students of the University of Denver, and will remain as such throughout their expected term as an officer.
- g. Club members may participate in any and all executive board meetings to provide their input, though their votes will not be counted in official executive board votes. The board may choose by a majority vote to keep a meeting private for the sake of individual club members' privacy, such as but not limited to discussion of removal or editing of campaign descriptions. Club members are expected to contact the Executive Board to be made aware of the board meeting's time and location, as it may change as needed.
- h. Official and unofficial club members must uphold the mission of the club.

Section 4: Expulsion of Members

- a. A member can be expelled from the organization if they fail to uphold the expectations of a member of DUDAD. This includes but is not limited to: ridiculing or mocking other players or parties, failure to remain in good standing with the University, failure to meet reasonable expectations of behavior during and outside of meetings, abusing or manipulating club practices and rules, or abusing the power and authority that comes with the role of Game Master. The Executive Board shall vote to determine whether or not an action constitutes a violation of this rule, and the Faculty Advisor may be consulted for guidance as well.

- b. Upon being found in violation of the rules and expectations as laid out in this constitution, the member and the violation will be discussed by the Executive Board in consultation with the organization's Faculty Advisor. The member in question will be notified of this meeting and their violation, and they must be given the opportunity to be present at the meeting to defend themselves. The violation, as well as officer and advisor comments, will be documented by the board, and expulsion will be finalized if all officers unanimously agree to the expulsion. This documentation is to be kept private and is only available upon a need-to-know basis by the Office of Student Engagement.

Article VI: Elections

- a. All elections are held once yearly during Winter Quarter to determine the following year's officers. A process of nomination must be held at least two weeks before voting begins.

If during this split-vote resolution both candidates tie a second time, a die roll will determine the winner. With the current executive board presiding over the roll, candidates will be randomly assigned "Even" or "Odd" and a twenty-sided die will be rolled, with the winner being the candidate corresponding to the result of the die roll.

Article VIII: Statement of Non-Hazing

Actively or passively encouraging these acts is also prohibited.

Article IX: Statement of Compliance with Campus and Legal Regulations

Section 1: Statement of Compliance with Campus and Legal Regulations: This organization shall comply with all university and campus policies and regulations and with local, state, and federal laws.

Article X: Contingencies

- a. Once the new officers are elected, a shadowing period begins in the Spring Quarter. New officers are expected to attend Executive Board meetings as time permits, allowing them to learn the operations and functions of their positions before they officially take up the position in the Fall Quarter.
- b. Access to previous and historical documentation, as well as executive board digital resources, must be provided to the newly elected officers no later than the 3rd week of the Spring Quarter.

Article XI: Amendments

- a. Constitutional amendments will be overseen by the President to ensure that the amendments are properly in line with the organization's mission.
- b. Amendments must be made available one week prior to voting to all members and officers.
- c. Amendment must be ratified by an officer majority vote.

- e. Amendments, in this language, refers to any additions, subtractions, or alterations of the language in this document.

Article XII: Adventures

- a. Any member may choose to become a GM and start an adventure. GM sign ups will be organized and conducted by the executive board during the quarter before the new adventures will be running. Player sign-ups will shortly follow GM sign ups, also organized and conducted by the executive board.
- b. New adventures begin at the start of every quarter.
- c. New adventures must support at least three players.
- d. All new adventures must be approved by the President, whose decision may be overridden by majority vote of the Executive Board members.

- e. Adventures may choose to be considered “continued” for a future quarter, allowing them to continue with the same characters in the same setting. Players in “continued” campaigns have priority in the player lottery system. No campaign is permitted to mark themselves as Continued from Spring to Fall Quarter to prevent alienating new club members.
- f. All new adventures are open to all members through the player lottery system.
- g. GMs have discretion as to members within their campaigns, in such a way as to ban a particular player from their game by announcing this discreetly to the executive board, provided they possess reason for doing so which is approved by the board.
- h. GMs will receive their campaign list prior to announcement of these lists to the club.
- i. Per quarter, member assignments will be made on a lottery system. Players in continuing campaigns will have priority registration if they are returning to their respective continuing campaign. This is not necessarily guaranteed in the case that a GM feels the need to lessen their number of players.
 - a. The lottery system works as follows: after registration closes, each member is assigned a random number, the lowest of which picks first. As campaigns fill, numbers are assigned based on preference. A “points system” exists to fairly compensate members who regularly do not have good luck within the lottery system. A “ban system” exists so that players and GMs may request not to be placed into a game with a specific person for reasons including but not limited to past grievances, personal discomfort, or inability to get along. Further documentation on these processes are located elsewhere and are available upon request from club officers.

Article XIII: Meetings

- c. The advisor can attend any meeting, join adventures, or become a GM if they so choose.

Section 2: Advisor Terms

- a. The advisor will serve one academic year; optional leave after one year if so desired, but must help officers in finding replacement.
